MODEL MEDICAL FREEDOM ACT

BILL OVERVIEW

THE MODEL MEDICAL FREEDOM ACT AT A GLANCE: ADVOCACY & EDUCATION KIT

Title: The Medical Freedom Act

What is the Medical Freedom Act?

BILL OVERVIEW

The Medical Freedom Act eliminates coercion and discrimination from the medical consent process by prohibiting public and private employers, schools, businesses, and government entities from requiring or conditioning participation, employment, education, or services on medical interventions such as vaccines, masks, tests, or other medical products. The Act reaffirms informed consent as a foundational human right in health care.

Why It Matters:

This law protects everyone's right to informed consent and removes any power claimed by private and government institutions to impose medical mandates.

What It Does:

- Prohibits businesses, schools, and government entities from requiring medical interventions as a condition for access, employment, or services.
- Protects all citizens against discrimination based on medical choices.
- Applies equally to all citizens, without impacting existing state laws on specific procedures.

Bottom Line: This Act restores and protects the core American value of individual freedom.

COMPANION FAQ & POLICY EXPLAINER

Q: Does it allow businesses to follow federal law or United States code?

A: Yes. Where federal law or United States Code requires compliance, the Act allows it.

Q: Does it ban all safety PPE requirements?

A: No. Employers and entities may require traditional safety gear (like gloves, goggles, etc.). The Act only restricts coercion related to medical procedures or treatments.

Q: Does random or pre-employment drug testing fall outside the bill?

A: Yes, because it is not performed to monitor, diagnose, prevent, treat, or cure a disease.

Q: Who enforces the Act?

A: Enforcement is available through the Attorney General or local prosecutors, with provisions for legal relief and attorney fees.

Q: May someone still choose to get medical interventions?

A: Yes. This Act protects choice. It empowers people to decide what is right for their own health without pressure or penalty.

Q: Does the MFA apply to healthcare workers or students training to work in healthcare?

A: Yes. The Medical Freedom Act applies to all citizens.

Q: Does the MFA protect firemen and paramedics?

A: Yes. The Medical Freedom Act applies to all citizens.

Q: Does the MFA apply to members of the military?

A: No. The military falls under federal jurisdiction so is not affected.

Q: Does this bill interfere with care for children in custody of the state, including foster care?

A: No, Section 4(9) explicitly preserves access to care in accordance with child welfare laws.

Q: Does MFA protect against micro-chip implants?

A: Yes. The bill prohibits all mandates for any type of medical intervention including implantable interventions such as, but not limited to, chips, devices, monitors, etc.

Q: Does this affect state abortion laws?

A: No. The Act does not address or change any state laws related to abortion.

Q: Will the MFA still be in effect even if a State of Emergency is declared?

A: Yes. Even if an emergency is declared, no rules or code may be promulgated by any state agency that contravenes this legislation.

Q: If the MFA were law in 2020, would it have protected people from the Coronavirus protocols?

A: Yes. Had the MFA been in effect, no person could have been coerced or forced to submit to tests, masks, distancing, vaccinations, or any other medical intervention to work, learn, recreate, or engage in civic life.

Q: May a pediatrician require vaccination for children to be patients?

A: No. A pediatrician's office may not require any medical intervention.

TALKING POINTS FOR LEGISLATORS & PUBLIC

For Lawmakers:

- The Medical Freedom Act protects the most basic fundamental human right - informed consent.
- The Act is a common-sense defense of core personal liberties.
- The Act safeguards informed consent without targeting any specific issue or group.
- This Act recognizes state sovereignty and empowers individuals while respecting federal law and United States Code.
- The Act protects our constituents from future overreach, while honoring present realities.

For the Public:

- You should never be punished for informed consent.
- No school, employer, venue, or state entity has the moral authority to coerce or force you into a medical intervention or treatment you don't want.
- The Medical Freedom Act restores your right to informed consent without fear.
- Informed consent is a basic human right. This Act puts it into law.

The Medical Freedom Act Protects Americans by:

- Upholding individual liberty — it ensures that no person is forced to undergo a medical intervention against their will, preserving the fundamental American value of voluntary informed consent.
- Restoring informed consent — it reinforces the ethical principle that medical decisions must be made freely, with full knowledge and without coercion.
- Preserving equal access — it prohibits discrimination based on medical status in employment, education, and public services, defending fairness and equal opportunity for all.
- Resisting authoritarianism — by prohibiting medical mandates from public and private entities, the Act safeguards against government overreach and corporate influence in personal health.

- Combating crony capitalism — it breaks the alliance between government regulators and pharmaceutical corporations that profit from mandates while enjoying liability shields.
- Protecting families and communities — it ensures parents, students, workers, and business owners retain the right to live, learn, and earn without surrendering their right to informed consent.
- Fortifying American resilience — by decentralizing control over health decisions, the Act strengthens informed consent and protects the cultural foundation of freedom.

STRATEGY FOR STATE-BY-STATE ADOPTION

Step 1: Get to know your legislators

Arrange meetings with your legislators in the off season when the legislature is out of session. Develop a relationship with them and share your concerns about existing laws and conditions in your state.

Step 2: Identify Legislative Champions

Find state senators or representatives who value liberty, informed consent, and parental rights. Introduce them to the model legislation.

Step 3: Tailor to State Law

Work with local legal advisors to ensure alignment with state constitutional language and education/health code.

Step 4: Build a Coalition

Engage parents' rights groups, health freedom organizations, faith-based leaders, and civil liberties advocates to support the bill.

Step 5: Pre-Session Outreach

Meet with lawmakers before session to explain the bill and secure co-sponsors. Use the explainer, fact sheet, and talking points.

Step 6: Media and Testimony

Prepare public speakers and op-eds. Host town halls. Coordinate testimonies from individuals affected by past mandates.

Step 7: Track and Adapt

As states pass versions, share wins and improve messaging. Encourage neighboring states to adopt, with local tweaks.

Outcome: A wave of legislation that restores medical freedom in every state — honoring both individual rights and state constitutional authority.
